

Dear Chairman Powell,

I want the current ownership rules to remain in place. The current rules better serve the public interest.

Market forces are an essential force behind the strength of this country. However, market forces should not be used to manage commons, like the airwaves. The airwaves should be regulated. The current rules serve an important function by helping to maintain a diversity of news sources and points of view.

Please keep the current rules in place.

Sincerely,
Nate Heard
